The Most Excellent Way International – INDIA

Church in DHARMAPURI, INDIA,
in the heart of Tamil Nadu
state, built by the 35 members. Very serious alcohol problem in this area.

Pastors pray for an alcoholic.

Pastor John Pendleton with area pastors.

Pastor Devaraj holds plastic bags of “home brew” alcohol — just bite a hole in bag and drink.
Cost is 10 rupees each (about 25 cents). Day laborers earn about 100 rupees per day, so two or three bags does serious damage to family income.

BANGALORE, INDIA

Shobha conducts TMEW "Family & Friends" fellowship meetings for Hindu ladies living in a nearby slum.

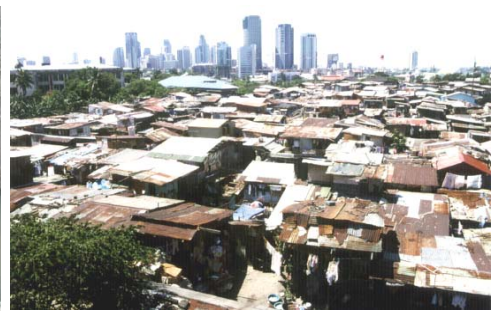

Shobha has a Master's Degree in Family Counseling, and finds "The Most Excellent Way" extremely valuable and "on-target."

Pastor John is explaining to the ladies how Jesus does more than cover the alcohol problem with a band-aid — Jesus heals from the inside of the man.

Pastor John with “Madam”

Madam threatened to kill Dr. Treveli if he continued to share the Gospel with her “girls” — she controlled 38 prostitutes. But Dr. Treveli continued — Madam accepted Jesus as her Lord and Savior, and now attends church regularly.

Madam’s “girls” listen to Pastor John share from the Bible.
All the girls are now Christians,
no longer prostitutes!

The girls sing a special medley for Pastor John.
The girl in red was the soloist.
She has since died from drinking polluted water.
